E. Social Networking Policy

The use and popularity of social networks (facebook, twitter, myspace etc.) has drastically increased among young people around the country. Student athletes must be aware that when using these sites that they not only represent themselves, but also their individual teams and their community. Any information posted on these sites is easily viewable by third parties and, therefore, can have a negative impact on that student athlete and/or their team and community.

Anything posted on these sites that is against the athlete code of conduct, drug and alcohol policy, and/or individual team rules may result in disciplinary action against that student athlete.

The athletic department makes the following recommendations when using social networking sites:

Guidelines

- Understand that anything posted online is available for viewing by anyone in the world. Any text or photo placed online becomes the property of the site, even if you limit the access to your site.

- You should not post any information, photos, or other items that could embarrass you, your family, your team, or school.
- Understand that others have the ability to post photos of you on their site without your consent or knowledge.

For your own safety:

- You should not post your email, home address, phone number, or other personal information.
- Adjust security settings so that only friends can view your profile.
- Be aware of who you add as friends.

I understand and agree to abide by the above rules and regulations.
