BELLWOOD — The Bellwood-Antis Lady Blue Devils dodged a bullet Thursday night. Despite shooting only 28 percent from the floor, and scoring just two points in the second quarter, Bellwood slipped by visiting Glendale, 40-33. Kathy Geis led Bellwood (3-0) with 17 points, including nine during the first quarter, which the Lady Devils carried, 17-6. That turned out to be the difference. "We got off to a good start, but then we just couldn't put the ball in the basket," said Bellwood Coach Terri Harpster. "It was a bad night shooting for us, and Glendale made it an interesting game. Every time we got up by 10 points or so, they'd come down and make a shot."

Amy Ross added 10 points for Bellwood, which got 12 rebounds from Renee Gummo and 11 from Shauna Kimberly. Glendale, which dropped to 2-1, was led by Missy Koteas' 10 points.

February 20, 1989: Glendale 0 at Penns Manor 2 (Forfeit)

Penns Manor 41, Glendale 39
(Game forfeited to Penns Manor)

KENWOOD — Fit this game into the "stranger than truth" category. After all, how often does a game's leading scorer make only one field goal?

The Comets were leading 41-39 with 7:22 left in the fourth quarter when the Glendale coach inexplicably pulled his team off the floor. The contest thus goes into the books officially as a 2-0 forfeit.

One of the Comets was knocked to the floor in a scramble for a loose ball and the foul was whistled. But as the PM player stepped to the line, the visiting Vikings walked off the court.

"It was an up-tempo, aggressive game from the beginning," explained PM coach Terry Glasser. "They (the Vikings) committed a lot of fouls. Apparently, the other coach (Rick Stackhouse) . . . there was a disagreement of some kind."

And so Stackhouse and his team headed for the locker room.

"It took me by surprise," said Glasser. "I don't know if there's a real explanation, to be honest. He caught everybody totally off guard."

Stackhouse presumably figured his team was getting the worst of the officiating. Penns Manor made 21 free throws to Glendale's one and had taken 31 attempts.

The Vikings, 15-6, grabbed an 18-6 lead after one quarter, but PM regrouped and cut the deficit to one point at halftime. The Comets led 41-39 entering the 38-second fourth quarter.

Pam Boughamer led Penns Manor with 15 points. She canned 13 free throws in 18 attempts, four of them the result of technicals. She also grabbed six rebounds.

Kim Bobak contributed nine points, 10 rebounds and great defense.

"She played sensational defense," said Glasser. "She played a super game in the high post. She had a whole bunch of steals."

The Comets, now 6-15, will close out the season Thursday at home against Laurel Valley.

Glendale girls' basketball coach Rick Stackhouse pleaded a crime of passion — or in this case, compassion — but it fell on deaf ears Thursday.

In a hearing at the Hollidaysburg Area Senior High School, the 11-man District 6 committee suspended Stackhouse for the remainder of the basketball season as a consequence of the third-year coach ordering his players to leave the floor during the fourth quarter of Monday night's game at Penns Manor.

The decision resulted in a 2-0 forfeit victory for Penns Manor, which had held a 41-39 lead when Stackhouse called his players off the floor 30 seconds into the fourth period.

Stackhouse was upset that officials Paul Tatarok and Jim Racchine saw fit to call 34 fouls against his team in the second and third periods, while whistling host Penns Manor for just five the entire game.

But he maintained Thursday that his primary concern — and the reason that he asked his team to leave the floor — was the welfare and safety of his players.

"This is my ninth season of coaching at one level or another," Stackhouse said Thursday night. "I've seen and experienced bad officiating before this. I didn't leave the floor, and I didn't have my players leave the floor, because of poor officiating. I did so because I was worried about one or more of my kids getting hurt."

The game turned into a rough-and-tumble affair that reached a head late in the third quarter, when Glendale senior Brenda Orrick squared off in fisticuffs against a Penns Manor player.

"I just did what I thought was best for the kids at the time," said Stackhouse. "Now I could say that I wish I wouldn't have, but that's a hard thing to say. At the time, I did what I thought I had to, and I didn't care about the consequences.

"We've gone through some injuries this year, and two of our players got hurt in games that were real loose like Monday night's," said Stackhouse. "We have some big games coming up, and I think this team has the potential to advance to the inter-districts."

District 6 committee chairman Stan Bem refused immediate comment when reached at his home late Thursday night and Glendale principal Dan Ceccoli was equally mum.

Ceccoli, who had already suspended Stackhouse from Wednesday night's Moshannon Valley League semifinal playoff game with Curwensville, refused to comment on the situation Thursday night, other than to say that "we (the school) are going to abide by whatever penalty the District 6 committee chooses to hand out — nothing more and nothing less."

If Monday's forfeit loss is taken into account, Glendale has a 16-7 record heading into tonight's Moshannon Valley League chamionship game with DuBois Central Christian. Glendale opens District 6-A tournament play Monday, and the top three girls' teams in District 6-A will advance to the inter-districts.

But Stackhouse, who said that he was informed of the District 6 committee's decision by Ceccoli and Glendale Athletic Director Duane Bordack Thursday evening, will be in abstentia. Stackhouse's assistant, Melanie Ford, will take charge of his duties.

"The hard part of all this is that in all probability, I won't be coaching here next season," said Stackhouse. "I don't have a permanent teaching position, and when a position opened up a couple of months ago, I wasn't considered or interviewed for it."

"I had three pretty good years with this team, and I kinda said my goodbyes tonight," Stackhouse said. "Our girls did well this season. This year's seniors didn't have the benefit of a junior high program. None of these girls played (organized basketball) until they were in the ninth grade."

The District 6 committee took no action against Penns Manor.

HOLLIDAYSBURG — Glendale gave its suspended coach, Rick Stackhouse, an early birthday present Monday in the opening round of the District 6-A girls' basketball playoffs.

The Lady Vikings' 51-35 victory over Bishop Carroll was for Stackhouse, who was suspended for the remainder of the season by the District 6 committee after taking his team off the court in last week's rough-and-tumble game at Penns Manor and whose birthday is today.

"Everything we do from here on is for Rick," said acting head coach Melanie Ford. "Tomorrow's Rick's birthday so before the game I said let's give him an early birthday present."

Ford, who coached Glendale's final two regular season games, said the Lady Vikings are starting to adjust to not having Stackhouse on the bench.

"We're taking what Rick taught us and we're using it without him directing us," Ford said.

Glendale used a 10-0 run to start the game and a 14-0 run to start the fourth quarter to secure the victory.

"We were able to get the ball inside in the fourth quarter and that's when we built the lead," Ford said.

Missy Koteas, who scored a game-high 16 points, had 10 in the fourth quarter, including the first four baskets.

"Again, we got the ball inside and Missy took advantage of it," Ford said.

Glendale's burst to start the fourth quarter sealed the victory, but after the Lady Vikings' initial 10-0 lead, Carroll cut the deficit to 14-10 after the first quarter.

Carroll's offense went cold in the second quarter, however. The Lady Huskies scored just four points and trailed 25-14 at halftime.

Glendale built its lead to 31-14 with the first six points of the third quarter, but again Carroll fought back and trailed by just eight (33-25) after three quarters.

The final blow was Glendale's 14 unanswered points to start the fourth quarter.

Brenda Orrick, with 14 points, and Lisa Callahan, with 10, joined Koteas in double-figure scoring for Glendale.

Rose Latterner led Carroll with 13 points, followed by Lori Baker with 11.

Glendale, which improved its record to 17-6, advances to meet top-seeded Ferndale Thursday at a site and time to be announced.

"We were anxious to get past Bishop Carroll to get to Ferndale," Ford said. "I haven't seen them, but we know it will be a challenge. We're looking forward to it."

Carroll completed its season with a 6-16 record.

Lady Vikings fall short in overtime

By Michael V. Emery

EBENSBURG — It was, as Ferndale Coach Don Joswick cliched, "a shame someone had to lose this game."

As a fan, it was a game you hated to see end.

If you were a Glendale fan, it was a game you hated to see end the way it did.

Because, while neither team deserved to lose, Glendale did lose.

The Lady Vikings' valiant upset effort Thursday night in the District 6-A semifinals against last year's state finalist fell just short in overtime as Ferndale posted a 55-53 victory.

Ferndale, which improved to 23-2, advanced to next Wednesday's championship game against Williamsburg, while Glendale will meet Laurel Valley in the consolation game.

"Wow, what a way to start the playoffs," Joswick said.

The only thing that equaled Joswick's relief was the disappointment on Glendale's side of the court.

"I'm very pleased with the way the team played tonight, we gave it our all, but we still feel bad right now," said Glendale Coach Melanie Ford.

Joswick felt his Ferndale team might have got caught looking ahead.

"We grossly underestimated Glendale," Joswick said. "As the coach, I have to take the blame for that. I saw (Glendale) against Bishop Carroll in their opening round game and they weren't very impressive. But you can't judge a team on one game. They've got a heck of a team and we saw that tonight. Those kids played their hearts out.

"I think we were looking ahead to Williamsburg, like this game was automatic. All year long Williamsburg and us have been ranked one-two in the district. We've been looking at them and they've been looking at us. We got a look at each other tonight (Williamsburg played in Thursday's opening game at Central Cambria High School, Ferndale and Glendale in the nitecap) and I think both of us might have looked a little bit past our games tonight."

Glendale started tasting the upset midway through the third quarter, as the Lady Vikings built an eight-point lead (30-22).

The Lady Vikings held a six-point two minutes into the fourth quarter (44-38), but Ferndale showed its poise, as the Lady Yellow Jackets slowly mounted a comeback behind all-everything Maebeth Schalles.

Schalles was shackled with foul trouble throughout the second half and fouled out with 30 seconds left in regulation, but still managed a game-high 26 points.

"The fouls to Maebeth really hurt us, but I have to credit the kids on our bench for coming in and doing the job," Joswick said. "Maebeth sat down with foul trouble in a couple of games earlier this year and those kids on the bench picked up some valuable experience. Obviously, that paid off for us tonight."

Schalles put Ferndale back into the lead, 51-50, with just under two minutes left.

Glendale got the lead back on two Sherri Frisco's free throws with 30 seconds left in regulation. Frisco, just a freshman, played a sensational game at point guard, scoring 14 points and running the Lady Vikings' offense like a wily veteran.

Ferndale's Jennifer Jones scored the final point of regulation, connecting on the front end of a 1-and-1 free throw to tie the score at 52 with 28 seconds left.

Ferndale outscored Glendale 3-1 in overtime.

Missy Koteas led Glendale with 17 points, all of which came in the second half. Mary Kay Franko also scored in double figures for Glendale, with 11 points.

The Lady Vikings' were hindered down the stretch, when starters Brenda Orrick and Lisa Callahan fouled out. Callahan picked up her fifth foul with 28 seconds left in regulation and Orrick sat down 13 seconds later.

"Losing Brenda and Lisa was a big loss, because we had to rotate our offense around," Ford said. "We also had trouble getting the ball inside to Missy without them in there."

Ford's biggest concern now is regrouping the Lady Vikings for next Wednesday's consolation game.

"I think we can handle it emotionally," Ford said. "We played a very good team tonight and the girls saw tonight that they can play with the best."

Glendale (53): Koteas 7 3-5 17, Orrick 1 2-3 4, Franko 3 5-7 11, Callahan 3 0-0 6, Frisco 4 6-9 14, Braniff 0 0-0 0, Keith 0 1-2 1. Totals — 18 17-26 53.

Ferndale (55): M. Schalles 11 4-7 26, Jones 5 6-7 16, Burgess 2 2-7 6, Troyan 2 1-2 5, Magi 0 0-0 0, J. Schalles 1 0-2 2, Gray 0 0-1 0. Totals — 21 13-26 55.

Glendale girls win 6-A consy

EBENSBURG — Glendale's late scores off a pressure defense resulted in a 42-36 win over Laurel Valley in the District 6-A girls' consolation game Wednesday and a berth in the state playoffs next week.

"This the first time a Glendale girls' team has qualified for states," said Glendale Coach Melanie Ford, following her team's comeback victory at Central Cambria High School. "It was one of our goals and we're looking forward to it."

Behind 34-28 after three quarters, Glendale outpointed Laurel Valley, 14-2 in the final period.

Laurel Valley hit just one of seven shots and turned the ball over 11 times in the final eight minutes.

"I just told them we had eight minutes to play and if we wanted our season to continue, we had to do the job now," said Ford of her chat with the Vikings prior to the final quarter.

"I thought we started trapping defensively and Sherri Frisco came up with some key steals for us."

Behind 36-31, Glendale reeled off 11 unanswered points to set the final count.

Ford said the Vikings really improved their game in the late stages. "I thought we played poorly in the first half," she said. "We didn't do the job defensively and we shot poorly. We didn't take the good shot."

With its defense creating the offense, Glendale closed by getting the high percentage shots, something Laurel Valley was able to do alot for three quarters.

Laurel Valley, with several high percentage shots, wound up converting 17 of 42 shots from the field, compared to Glendale's 19-for-55 effort.

But Glendale managed a slim edge in rebounds, 32-31; and had seven less turnovers — 27-21.

Brenda Orrick garnered 12 points and eight rebounds for Glendale. Lisa Callahan scored a game-high 15 points. Frisco, a freshman, added 10 points, and Mary Kay Franko eight rebounds.

GAME NOTES: Glendale improved its record to 18-8 ... Vikings will meet the District 9 runnerup in the opening round of the state playoffs ... Laurel Valley closed with a 16-7 record.
