New faces hope to carry on winning tradition at Glendale

FLINTON — Fans of Glendale Lady Viking basketball will be in for a different look in the 1995-96 season.

Head coach Andy Bloom plans on using 10 to 12 players, utilizing the full-court press and playing a more up-tempo style of game.

After a 14-12 campaign where the Lady Vikings advanced to the consolation round of the District 6 Class A playoffs, Bloom must replace seven seniors. Two of those seniors were Angie Frisco and Bernadette Depto, who combined to average 22 points per game. Glendale will also try to win its fifth straight Mo Valley League title.

Bloom has just two returning letterwinners in seniors Beth Dick and Tammy O'Shell. O'Shell averaged 2.5 ppg. and Dick averaged 2.2.

But he's not worried about replacing players.

"We don't lose anything when we go to the bench with this group," Bloom said. "I'm not afraid to use any of them and I feel very confident in these girls."

The Lady Vikings will open their season in the Clearfield Tip-off Tournament Friday against the Lady Bisons. Philipsburg-Osceola and Du-Bois Central Christian play in the other game. In last year's tourney, P-O topped Glendale 53-31 in the opening round before the Lady Vikings rallied to beat DCC, 71-24, in the consolation game.

Bloom can't remember the last time he had a club without any returning starters. But he does have a team that has played together.

"These girls played together on the junior varsity for two years and we did pretty well this summer in one of (the) leagues in Altoona," Bloom said. "Our junior class is a very good group and the players are all very equal ability-wise."

Bloom said his team may be taken lightly in the MVL this year, but "that would be a mistake."

The juniors include Mary Jo Rea, Nicole Ruffaner, Amy Davis, Jessica Jenkins, Kelly Vinglass, Melissa Feigh, Candice Dudurich, Jennifer Noel, Stacie Miles, Kristen Morrison.

Bloom in his sixth year at Glendale as a head coach and 10th overall, knows his team has to work on rebounding.

"We want to run and have our defense give us easy chances to score, but we have to have possession of the ball before we can do that," Bloom said.

December 1, 1995: Glendale 52 vs Clearfield 37 (Clearfield Tourn.)

HYDE - Clearfield High School head girls' basketball coach Pat Pallo had a lot of concerns heading into the season.

Now, he's got another.

Team leader Tracy Honko injured her finger in the second quarter and did not return in the season opener Friday night. Glendale took advantage as it dropped the Lady Bisons, 52-37, in the feature game of the Clearfield Tip-Off Tournament at the Arthur J. Weiss Gymnasium.

The game was even in the first quarter, but momentum started to shift after Honko left the game early in the second.

"She's running the show," said Pallo, whose team will face DuBois Central Christian in the consolation game tonight beginning at 6 p.m. "Losing her was really a test for the girls. I was hoping that we would overcome that."

But the Lady Bisons (0-1) cracked under the pressure of the Glendale defense. The Lady Vikes (1-0) were slow getting out of the gate, but they turned it up a notch in the third quarter and rolled to the win.

Head coach Andy Bloom was pleased to start the season with a win.

"The girls were a little uptight to start the game," said Bloom. "But that was understandable because we didn't have anyone back who started last year. Things came together for us in the third."

Both offenses struggled early. Glendale took an early 2-0 lead on a bucket by Nichole Ruffaner. A Honko free-throw made it 2-1. That would be the only point she would score in the game.

The lead bounced back-and-forth early in the game. Clearfield got its first lead when Maggie Vezza canned a shot from the top of the key to make it 8-6.

Glendale then knotted things at 8-8. That's how the first quarter ended.

Clearfield snagged a 10-8 lead in the second quarter, but Glendale answered on a bucket by Amy Davis.

After the Davis bucket, disaster struck for Clearfield. Honko was injured away from the ball and left the contest with 6:50 to go in the first half.

Glendale responded by opening up a 17-12 lead. But Clearfield fought back and eventually tied it at 18-18 on a three-pointer by Carrie Moore.

"They didn't quit, and I was pleased to see that. I was pleased with the effort, but not the outcome," Pallo said.

Clearfield went to the intermission down, 26-23.

The third quarter proved to be the difference in the game. Glendale came out and went right for the jugular. The Lady Vikes scored the first 14 points of the quarter and opened up a 40-23 lead with 4:04 left in the third.

Tammy O'Shell provided a couple of knockout blows, connecting on two treys in during the 14-0 run. After that, Clearfield was fighting an uphill battle. It didn't get within double digits of the lead.

"I was really pleased to see that (third quarter outburst). The third quarter was the difference in the game. Some things started to click for us," Bloom said.

Glendale outscored the Lady Bisons 18-4 in the third quarter.

Late in the game, Clearfield trimmed the lead to 47-34 when Vezza stole the ball and scored on a lay-in with 2:15 to play in the game. But it was too little, too late.

Vezza led all players in scoring with 17 points. Mary Jo Rea paced Glendale with 13 points, while O'Shell also reached double digits with 10.

Glendale will take on Philipsburg-Osceola in the championship game of the tournament tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. Although the teams haven't met yet this season, they are familiar with each other.

"We played P-O in a summer league. They're a real disciplined team and they don't make a lot of mistakes, and they're physically strong," said Bloom. "It will be a good challenge."

HYDE - The Philipsburg-Osceola Lady Mounties and Missy Witters are really starting to get the hang of this tip-off tournament stuff.

For the second straight year, P-O won the Clearfield Tip-Off Tournament. And for the second year, Witters was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

Saturday night, the Lady Mounties completed the sweep by dispatching Glendale 74-35 at Arthur J. Weiss Gymnasium.

"It's nice to win the tournament and see the kids play as well as they did," P-O head coach Lee Fisher said. "I thought they played very well defensively and did a good job on the boards."

Witters scored 16 points against the Lady Vikings after hitting for 24 against DuBois Central in Friday's opener. In four tournament games, she has averaged 16.3 ppg.

The Lady Mounties' Kelly Vancas led all scorers with 22 points. Kelly Kephart chipped in with 12. Kephart, Vancas and Kara Coval were named to the All-Tournament Team.

"Philipsburg is a well-disciplined, well-coached team," Glendale head coach Andy Bloom said. "They get good looks at the basket and when they do, they put them down."

Glendale (1-1) took its only lead as Tammy O'Shell drained a three-pointer from the right side to open the game.

Kephart answered with a bomb from the right corner as P-O (2-0) went on a 7-0 run. The Lady Vikings cut it to two on Beth Dick's putback, but would get no closer.

a 19-9 lead. Vancas led the Lady Mounties with six first-quarter points.

Then P-O lead jumped to 19 points midway through the second quarter as the Lady Mounties went on a 12-3 run. Jayne Krause and Witters each contributed four points to the run.

"The kids probably panicked a little bit," Bloom said. "We got behind and started to feel the pressure -- that's natural."

Vancas scored the final four points of the quarter to give the Lady Mounties a 38-17 lead at the break.

Unlike Friday's game when P-O was trying to get Witters her 1,000th point in the second half, nothing was in doubt in Saturday's final two quarters. Fisher said his team was more loose against Glendale after having gotten the milestone behind them.

"What we wanted to do last night was try to get that beyond us and just think of the season," Fisher said. "There was pressure on our kids yesterday, and they were relieved to get that done."

P-O outscored Glendale 36-18 in the second half to pick up the 39-point win.

The Lady Mounties travel to Cambria Heights Tuesday. Glendale treks to Claysburg-Kimmel Wednesday.

CLAYSBURG - Free throw shooting kept another Progressland team from claiming a win Wednesday night in girls' high school hoop action.

Glendale made 12-of-22 from the line, but Claysburg-Kimmel was 11-of-17 and won by a point.

The Lady Vikings also had a poor defensive effort in the second quarter when C-K outscored them 24-15. That edge proved to be enough.

Beth Dick led the Lady Vikings

AMESVILLE - One would think that after winning the Moshannon Valley League for four consecutive seasons, the Glendale Lady Vikings would be ready to take a year off and let another team win the title for a change.

Then again, maybe not.

The Lady Vikes sent a message to the rest of the MVL Friday night: That they are the defending champions, and that they're not going to give things up that easily.

Glendale held off a furious second half Moshannon Valley rally to post a 46-43 win at the Monte Close Gymnasium. The win kept the Lady Vikes unbeaten at 2-0 and in first place in the MVL.

"I hope this is a sign," said Glendale head coach Andy Bloom, whose squad improved to 5-4 overall. "This is only one game, but I think (the league) is going to be a dogfight."

Friday night's clash certainly was. The Lady Vikes squandered an early first half lead, only to hang on down the stretch. Amy Davis hit a pair of free throws with six seconds left to give Glendale a three-point lead.

Mo Valley's Allison Stodart missed a three-pointer at the buzzer that would have tied the game and sent it into overtime.

It was the second three-point in three days for the Damsels, who slipped to 3-2 in the league and 4-6 overall. If the Damsels are going to get back into the MVL race, they're going to need some help.

"It was a heck of a comeback," said Mo Valley head coach Mick Patkalitsky, whose team battled back from a 15-point first half deficit. "What we're trying to emphasize to the girls right now is that we want to give ourselves the opportunity to win every game. And we're doing that."

Mo Valley had a rough night from the foul line. The Damsels were 13-of-31 overall and just 1-of-8 over the final four minutes.

The Damsels entered the fourth quarter down 36-30. They fell behind by eight before beginning to chip away at the deficit. Chrissy Solan canned a pair of free throws to pull the Damsels within 44-39.

Stodart canned a three-pointer at the 2:30 mark to get Mo Valley within 44-42. Both teams traded turnovers before Beth Bannon sank a free throw with 33 seconds left to make it 44-43.

Over the final half minute of the game, Mo Valley was unable to find the bottom of the net. Chris Williams got the ball in the paint with under 10 seconds to go, but she was unable to get a shot off.

The Damsels were forced to foul, and Davis gave the Lady Vikes the 46-43 lead. With six seconds left in regulation, Stodart brought the ball up and took the trey from well behind the three-point arc. But it was off the mark.

Mo Valley outscored Glendale, 30-20 in the second half.

"We came out in the third quarter flatter than a pancake, and Mo Valley stepped up their game in the second half. They were playing well and we could have packed it in.

Luckily, our bench picked it up, and that's the way they've been playing all year. They all worked extremely hard," said Bloom.

For the Damsels, it was a case of missed opportunity. If they had just hit a handful of their shots from the charity stripe, then it would have been a different game.

"We were 1-for-8 in the last four minutes, and you just can't do that. The cold shooting really hurt us. But overall we played a good second half. I don't think we came out with a sense of urgency, we just came out more focused," said Patkalitsky.

Mo Valley's Solan led all scorers with 19 points. Stodart also reached twin digits with 11. Stacie Miles was the lone Lady Vikes to hit double figures. She had 13 points.

Glendale had an 11-6 lead after the first eight minutes and took a 26-13 lead into the intermission.

GAME NOTES: Mo Valley won the junior varsity game, 26-19 ... Both teams return to action Monday. Glendale hosts Williamsburg and Mo Valley travels to Juniata Valley.

FLINTON — It is often said that defense wins basketball games. If you don't believe it, just ask Glendale girls' basketball head coach Andy Bloom.

"We've been playing consistent defense all year and it was one of the keys tonight," Bloom said.

It is often also said that free throw shooting wins basketball games. If you don't believe it, just ask Mo Valley head coach Mick Patkalitsky.

"Free throws have been our achilles heel all year, and they really hurt us tonight. What makes it worse was how well Glendale hit theirs," he said.

The Lady Vikes used a strong combination of both to tag a 58-41 loss on the Damsels last night in a game that gave Glendale a big edge in the race for the Moshannon Valley League title.

On defense, the Lady Vikes held Mo Valley to 3-of-13 shooting from the floor through the second and third quarters as they stretched a one-point lead into 15 going into the fourth.

At the line, Glendale was 22-of-30 while Mo Valley was 15-of-33.

Glendale took a 3-0 lead on three free throws to start the game. They got two from Buffy Dick and one from Mary Jo Rea. A Rea jumper from the line made it 5-0.

Lady Vikings beat Damsels 58-41 to gain edge in MVL

Jennifer Southern got Mo Valley on the board by drilling a three-pointer at the 4:07 mark. The shot got her on a personal roll, and that would eventually put Mo Valley in the lead.

She would take a steal the length the floor for a layup, and then hit a second trey that put the Damsels up.

When Allison Stodart drilled a deep three, Mo Valley had what would be its biggest lead of the evening, 11-7, with 2:05 to go in the quarter. But the Glendale defense kicked it into high gear and began to smother the Damsels.

The Vikes finished the quarter with a short jumper from Amy Davis and a bucket from behind the arc from Jessica Jenkins. It was the beginning of an 11-0 run that would last until Southern hit a trey with 1:47 to go in the half.

That shot cut the Glendale lead to 18-14.

The Damsels would get one other field goal, a Janna Martin turnaround jumper, before the half. But it was sandwiched between a couple free throws and a layup from Dick.

The Lady Vikes held a six point margin at the half, but Bloom liked what he saw from his team.

"We really had some consistency on offense tonight, and that's something we haven't been getting a lot of this year. The girls were patient and it was paying off with easy shots for a lot of different people," he said.

While Glendale was getting good contributions from different sources, Mo Valley was getting hurt in one area that could have been used to slow down the Vikes.

"We got in some early foul trouble, and it cut down on our aggressiveness. As a result, we didn't cover out as well as we should have and they were finding open people," said Patkalitsky.

Glendale's strong defense keyed a 10-2 run over the first six and a half minutes of the third quarter. Mo Valley was held to a couple of free throws while the Lady Vikings got contributions from Rea, Jenkins and Dick.

The run was stopped by a Chris Williams' baseline jumper off of a Southern feed at the 1:27 mark, but Glendale quickly got inside buckets from Amy Davis and Dick that gave the Lady Vikes a comfortable lead going into the fourth.

Down the stretch, the Lady Vikes hit 11-of-14 from the foul line to ice the win.

Mo Valley trimmed the deficit to 10 points on treys from Southern and aggressive inside play from Williams and Chrissy Solan.

The Damsels would hit 12-of-24 from the line in the final quarter. But for Mo Valley, it just wasn't enough.

For Glendale, the game was a great redeemer after losing to a strong Williamsburg team two nights ago.

"The girls really came out mentally prepared to play this evening. They had to play two games in two nights, but I think Mo Valley being a rival helped in getting them up for the game. Our girls did a really good job this evening," Bloom said.

The win moves Glendale to 6-7 on the season and a league leading 3-0 in the MVL. Mo Valley drops to 5-8, and 3-3 in the league.

The Damsels avoided a sweep by taking the jayvee game 33-29 behind 12 points from Anne Fetchu. Mandi Peacock led Glendale with six points.

GAME NOTES: Southern, who had a strong night shooting from the floor, led Mo Valley with 17. Williams added 10 ... Dick had 17, including a 9-for-12 performance from the line. Rea added 13 for the Lady Vikes ... Glendale shot 15-of-44 from the field while holding Mo Valley to 10-of-33 ... Glendale outrebounded the Damsels 33-26, but Solan took game honors pulling down 10. The Vikes had 17 turnovers to the Damsels 22.

CURWENSVILLE - It was a big night for the Curwensville girls' basketball team.

In one of the best games the Moshannon Valley League has seen in some time, Curwensville upset four-time defending MVL champion Glendale at Patton Hall, 43-41 Friday night.

Both teams went full blast up and down the court all night, and neither backed down.

The game wasn't decided until Lady Viking Buffy Dick missed a free throw off the back off the rim with one second left in regulation.

It was a contest that left the Lady Tide players celebrating at mid-court, both coaches praising the effort of their teams, and Dick on the sidelines in the arms of her teammates.

"That was possible as hard as we have played all year," commented Lady Tide head coach Vic Gearhart. "Glendale put out just as much effort as we did. I told the girls that tonight they played at the level I've wanted them to play at all year."

Curwensville got out of the gate early, taking a 6-2 lead over the first 2:40 on two jumpers, one each from Beth Vokes and April Barrett.

Glendale got off to sluggish start.

"The first quarter hurt us a lot. We got down early, and really didn't get back in the game by their press. O'Shell got an easy hoop off a steal, and Dick finished the run with a trey to give her team its first lead of the night at 23-22.

The teams exchanged one-point leads throughout the rest of the quarter, with Curwensville getting a 27-26 lead on two Beth Vokes' free throws with 13 seconds left in the quarter.

Seldom-used Lady Tide sophomore Sommer Morrison had a fourth quarter to remember. She scored 11 of her game high 12 in the final quarter.

Morrison was playing deep on the Tide press breaker. Five times in the quarter Johnston found her underneath at the end of the press.

Though Curwensville was occasionally breaking through to get some easy buckets, they were also turning the ball back to Glendale. However, the Lady Vikes had gone stone cold from the floor, hitting only 4-of-18 in the final eight minutes.

Morrison's ninth point of the quarter gave the Lady Tide a 40-34 lead with 2:25 left in the game. Jenkins then banked home a trey to cut the lead in until the second half," Glendale head coach Andy Bloom said. "By that time we had expended a lot of energy, and once we caught them we couldn't pull ahead."

Nicole Ruffaner started the second quarter by nailing a trey from the top of the key, but the Lady Tide responded with Vokes and Johnston lay-ups that gave the Tide a 12-5 lead.

Curwensville got its biggest lead of the night, 17-7, on a Johnston free throw with 4:28 left in the half. But Glendale woke up and started to move back into the game.

Mary Jo Rea made a layup off of a drive through Curwensville's zone. Then Tammy O'Shell got a layup off of a Jess Jenkins steal to cut the lead to 18-11.

After a couple more Tide free throws, O'Shell nailed a three-pointer with only six seconds left in the half, to cut the lead to six at the break.

In the first half the Lady Tide held a 21-10 advantage on the boards.

Gearhart felt that his team's defense was key.

"We really moved well out of our zone. We made it hard for them to get the ball inside, and hit the boards as well as we have all year," he said.

By the mid-point of the third quarter, Glendale had made a new game of it.

After exchanging buckets to start the quarter, the Lady Vikes went on a 7-0 run keyed half less than ten seconds later.

Curwensville then broke the press again and Rottier found Morrison alone under the bucket to give the tide a 42-37 lead.

Glendale would sandwich pairs of foul shots from Stacie Miles and O'Shell around one from Johnston. O'Shell's pair with 33 seconds left in the game made it 43-41.

Curwensville attempted to run out the clock, but an errant pass gave it back to Glendale with 21 seconds left.

The end of the game was a flurry that started with what appeared to be a Tide steal. But the ball went out of bounds and Glendale got it back with eight seconds to go.

From there, Glendale got the ball to O'Shell on the baseline. Her 18-footer was short, but Jenkins got the rebound and put it back up. Her five-footer was long and pulled down by Dick who was fouled on the way back up. She then missed a free-throw that could have put her team in position to tie the game and force overtime.

Gearhart was elated with the win.

"The win got us into the district playoffs. It will be the first time since 1987 that we've been there," he said. "Also, the game up at Glendale will be for the Mo Valley League championship. If we'd have lost tonight they probably would have it locked up."

Both teams will be on the road next week. Glendale (3-1 in the MVL, 6-9 overall), will head to Juniata Valley Monday. Curwensville (6-1 MVL, 8-7 overall) travels to DuBois Central Wednesday.

Glendale won the jayvee game 33-22 behind nine points from Stacie Miles.

Lady Vikes capture fifth straight MVL title

FLINTON - Can you say five-peat?

The Glendale girls' basketball team captured its fifth straight Moshannon Valley League title with a 64-36 win over Curwensville at Glendale High School Friday night.

The Lady Vikings finished with a 7-1 record in the Mo Valley League and 12-12 overall. Curwensville finished its regular season with a 6-2 record in the MVL and 11-11 overall.

It was a turnaround season for Curwensville, which entered the game with a chance to snap Glendale's stranglehold on the title. But Glendale took a 14-10 lead after the first eight minutes and held a double digit at the intermission.

Glendale led 28-16 at the half.

Glendale kept things going in the third quarter by outscoring Curwensville 16-9. That gave the Lady Vikes a 44-25 lead heading to the fourth quarter.

Tammy O'Shell led the Lady

Vikes with 14 points. Stacie Miles added 11 in the big win.

Jaime Johnson was the lone Curwensville player to reach double figures with 11 points.

In the junior varsity game, Curwensville defeated Glendale, 43-41. Sommer Morrison led all scorers with 17 points. Mandy Peacock and Jen Queen had nine points apiece for Glendale.

Curwensville will be back in action on Feb. 28 against Redbank Valley in the District 9 Class AA playoffs. The site and time of that game has not been determined.
