2020-21 Progressland Girls Basketball All-Stars announced

It was certainly a strange high school girls basketball season in Progressland.

While Clearfield started in early January and was able to get in a 22-game season, COVID-19 made sure no one else got more than 18 with Moshannon Valley only playing 11 times.

The large difference in total games from team-to-team and the helter skelter schedule made picking an all-star team difficult, so The Progress enlisted the help of its seven head coaches to nominate and vote on candidates for Player of the Year.

When the smoke cleared, Glendale's Kyla Campbell was given the nod for the second straight season. Three others received at least one first-place vote among the coaches and Progress sports staff.

In addition to Campbell, the first team has two more repeat members in Harmony's Traci Hauser and West Branch's Sarah Betts.

Joining them on the first team are Clearfield's Emma Higgs, Curwensville's Alyssa Bakaysa and Moshannon Valley's Sydney Bubb. Bakaysa and Bubb were second teamers a season ago.

As for Coach of the Year, the dean of Progressland girls coaches Joey Castagnolo was tabbed for the honor after leading the Lady Bison to a 10-win season and berth in the District 9 Championship game.

The second team consists of Clearfield's Riley Ryen, Curwensville's Joslynne Freyer, Glendale's Lilley Vereshack, Harmony's Dorey Westover, Philipsburg-Osceola's Alayna Webster and West Branch's Jenna Mertz.

Honorable Mention went to Clearfield's Megan Durandetta, Curwensville's Kyra Henry, Glendale's Riley Best, Philipsburg-Osceola's Megan Holenick and West Branch's Tory Kalke.

Player of the Year: Kyla Campbell, Junior, Glendale: With the Lady Vikings starting later than everyone else, Campbell and her team were at a bit of a disadvantage with many of their opponents having several more games under their belts when they played them. But that didn't stop Campbell from leading Progressland in several statistical categories. Campbell's 15.2 points per game and 72.3 percent free throw shooting were both the best in the area. She also led all players in free throws made (68) and attempted (94) as well as steals (4.8) per game. Campbell, a Mo Valley league and ICC All-Star, was also second in rebounds per game (11.2), second in assists per game (3.7) and third in 3-pointers made with 24. Her best scoring game of the season came in a win at Harmony. She scored 25 against the Lady Owls in that one and was in double figures in 13 of the Lady Vikings' 15 games. Campbell has 809 career points heading into her senior season.
